of subsidy @ 150/Wp (Wp=Peak Watt) and loan from Rs. 50.000 to 1,00,000 has been provided to the user for purchasing the solar photovoltaic pumps in the capacity of 200 to 2250 Wp. According to Urja Vikas Nigam (Madhya Pradesh) 46 solar photovoltaic pumps were sold to farmers before 1992. These pumps were of 450 watt.

(c) to (e) A 'Pilot Project for Solar Energy based Minor Irrigation and Water Supply in Rural Areas' under the Indo-French Co-operation Programme on Water Resources Management has been proposed for installation of 50 numbers of Solar Pupms in Anantapur or Chittoor district of Andhra Pradesh, Kalahandi and Keonjhar districts in Orissa, Gumla or Ranchi in Madhya Pradesh for implementation during the 8th Five Year Plan. The estimated cost of the project is Rs. 5.46 crores; out of which France is providing a loan of French Francs 3.8 million and a grant of French Francs 2.0 million (Total equivalent to Rs. 2.96 crores).

Development of Irrigation system in the Country

4250. SHRI CHIMANBHAI HARIBHAI SHUKLA: Will the Minister of WATER RESOURCES be pleased to state:

(a) the total amount spent, statewise for developing the irrigation systems in the country during the last three years, year-wise;

(b) whether any long-term plan has been formulated to develop irrigation facilities upto the end of this century; and

(c) if so, what are the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI P. V. RANGAYYA NAIDU): (a) A statement showing state-wise and year-wise amount spent/allocated for developing the irrigation systems through Major & Medium irrigation, Minor irrigation and Command Area Development Programme during the last three years is enclosed.

(b) and (c) No plan has been prepared for irrigation by the end of this century. However, Eighth Five Year Plan which goes upto 1997 envisages creation of additional irrigation potential to the extent of 5.09 and 10.7 million hectares through Major & Medium Surface Water Irrigation Projects and Minor Irrigation schemes respectively in the country. During the Eighth Plan period, Rs. 22,415 crores, Rs. 5,977 crores and Rs. 2,510.13 crores have been allocated to Major & Medium projects, Minor Irrigation schemes and Command Area Development Programme respectively.

Unutilized irrigation projects

4251. DR. NAUNIHAL SINGH: Will the Minister of WATER RESOURCES be pleased to state:

(a) whether investments worth Rs. 16,000 crores are locked up in unutilised irrigation projects in the country;

(b) whether it is a fact that although many of these projects in question have been constructed yet no benefits from them have been derived;

(c) whether it is also a fact that the biggest single malady in the major and medium irrigation sector, has been the tendency to start more new projects without completing the ones in hand; and

(d) if so, what steps are being taken by Government to correct the situations?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI P. V. RANGAYYA NAIDU): (a) 158 Major, 226 Medium and 95 Extension/Renovation/Modernisation

(ERM) irrigation projects envisaging ultimate irrigation potential of 2,48,12,000 hectares and estimated to cost Rs. 65.576 crores spilled over into VIII Plan. VIII Plan outlay for these projects is Rs. 22,400 crores against an amount of Rs. 40,563 crores required for their completion.

(b) There are instances where storage/diversion facility has been created but the work on construction of distribution system is lagging behind with the result that full benefits could not be derived from such projects.

(c) Yes, Sir. Irrigation is a State subject and irrigation projects are planned, formulated and implemented by the State Governments out of their own plan resources.

(d) To ensure accrual of benefits from investment, the strategy adopted in the VIII Plan is to attach top most priority to completion of ongoing projects which have made significent progress in implementation. The Planning Commission has started strict earmarking of outlays to important projecsts. Further, the Central Water Commission has been entrusted with monitoring of selected projects.
